The victim was a resident of a homeless camp in the Springfield, Missouri area. He complained of pain and was transported to the local hospital where he later passed away. He never provided hospital personnel with a name, he just told the first responder to "call me old man". The victim had no teeth and his right arm was amputated at the elbow. He wore a hook prosthesis which is pictured above. Fingerprints and a partial body X-Ray are available. Please contact the number below with any information.
